

ABSTRACT

1 A system for associating a credibility rating with a
2 document located in an online search. The system
3 comprises an information gathering device adapted to 4 retrieve the document from an information source, an 5 information analysis device adapted to determine an 6 online id associated with the document, and a credibility
7 rating system adapted to provide the credibility rating
8 associated with the online id to the information analysis
9 device. The system is adapted to allow a user to 10 retrieve the credibility rating associated with the 11 document.
